

Engaging with Mark.....

Tuesday 29 November, Christ Church, Harrogate – 11:00 – 15:45

Cost: £20 (inc. lunch)

Following the success of 'Engaging with Matthew.....' in October 2011, we are pleased to be welcoming back Professor Larry Hurtado, to speak on Mark's gospel.

Larry is a New Testament scholar and has held posts in higher education since 1975. Currently he is Professor of New Testament Language, Literature & Theology at Edinburgh University. He is also Director of the Centre for the Study of Christian Origins at the University. Using a blend of wisdom, scholarship and humour, Larry will explore key themes in St Mark's gospel in a way that will promote our engagement with the text.

The purpose of this event is to help equip preachers from all denominations. Year B in the common lectionary, which commences on Advent Sunday 27 November 2011, offers semi-continuous readings from St Mark's gospel at the Principal Services on Sundays throughout the year.

Clergy and Readers from the Diocese of Ripon and Leeds can reclaim the cost from the lay or clergy ministerial training budgets. Other attendees may be able to claim the cost from their own denomination or church.

There are a limited number of places, so please book early.
